encaustic arts magazine

Encaustic Arts Magazine is a full color, full length digital magazine published online semi-annually by the Encaustic Art Institute (EAI) in Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The first and only international magazine about encaustic, each issue features the most important news about the medium, interviews with "hot" artists, information on techniques, tools, materials & exhibitions. The magazine was the winner of the 2016 La Vendéenne Award for Media, presented by International Encaustic Artists (IEA).

View beautiful full-color photos of work by prominent and emerging artists. Read in-depth articles about the artists, their process and their techniques.

Encaustic Arts Magazine is YOUR expert guide to what you want and need to know about the renaissance of this ancient medium.
