Whether you use a smart phone or professional camera to take photos, using encaustic wax with an assortment of mixed media can transform photographs into art. During this presentation artist Angel Wynn will demonstrate a variety of processes she's developed to create one-of-a-kind art from her images. By utilizing exotic papers, texture adding tools, pigment staining and color wax paints Angel's demo will show you a few of her tricks and tips. Watch as she alters photos into imaginative contemporary art right before your eyes. For those who are not photographers, Angel will share alternative resources for acquiring images.

ANGEL WYNN is a New Mexico-based artist. To learn more about Angel and see her work, click here.
