Description:

Day-1. This workshop's first two hours will cover the Oil & Cold Wax painting fundamentals. Once covered there will be a short Abstract Art presentation. By definition Abstract Art is characterized by the reduction of natural appearances into simplified forms; for example, constructing art on the basis of geometric shapes or intuitive gestures, or by the use of color to express emotions. Objective and non objective exercises will be assigned. Be prepared to paint looser, bolder, freer, lighter and more intuitively.

Day-2. Constraint is paradoxically limitless, during the morning we will discuss constraint in art, as well as the variables we deal with in creating a painting. Simplification, how do we take a concept and boil it down to its essence? And or easier to do or understand. Finally, the power of a limited color palette. There will be plenty of time for action-filled painting and personalized atte "
